

Community Services Internship

Mridung Ghai | Roll No. 24BCH039

Chemical Engineering,

Semester 2

Acknowledgement

My heart felt thanks to Arpita Shah maam for her guidance, empathy, and profound expertise in malnutrition, crucial for my internship at CJ SHAH FOUNDATION.

The welcoming environment at the Gaushala and the warmth of every team member made this experience enriching and memorable. I am grateful to all who contributed.

Organization Details

Name:CJ SHAH FOUNDATION

Contact Person: Amisha Shah

Address: 11, Yantriwa Society, Nr: Chanakyapuri, new sama road,
Vadodara

PIN:390024

Telephone: 9825027739

Internship Overview

This report details my 21-day internship at the CJ Shah Foundation, an NGO dedicated to improving the lives of underprivileged children through education and care. I worked with pre-primary students, engaging them in academic and recreational activities to enhance their learning and social development.

Internship Objectives

1

Early Education

Assisting the early education of pre-primary students.

2

Nurturing Environment

Foster a joyful environment through playful learning.

3

Overall Development

Support young children's development in daily routines.

Roles and Responsibilities

- Teaching Basic Concepts: Taught English alphabet, numbers, colors, and shapes.
- Activity-Based Learning: Conducted drawing, storytelling, rhymes, and hopscotch.
- Feeding Assistance: Helped children eat, ensuring hygiene.
- Classroom Support: Maintained discipline and assisted the main teacher.
- Emotional Engagement: Bonded with children, ensuring they felt safe and heard.

Key Activities Conducted

Day(s)	Activity
1-5	Alphabet introduction with flashcards, rhymes, and storytelling
6-10	Outdoor games, group play, and creative drawing sessions
11-15	Practicing letter sounds, group singing, and snack time help
16-20	Review games, fun quizzes, and teaching through play
21	Final day activities, reflection, and photo session

Skills Developed

Communication

Improved interaction with young children.

Teamwork

Collaborated with teachers and staff.

Patience & Empathy

Learned to understand and respond to unique needs.

Creativity

Designed engaging teaching methods with limited resources.

Challenges Faced

- Managing young children's attention spans required consistent energy and creativity.
- Adapting communication for children with diverse learning speeds and backgrounds.
- Maintaining balance between fun and discipline in a joyful environment.

Conclusion

My 21-day internship at CJ Shah Foundation was a highly enriching and heartwarming experience, offering valuable insights into early childhood education and NGO operations. I am grateful for the opportunity to contribute to these young children's learning journey and for my personal growth.

Sincerely, Mridung Ghai.